OUR HANDCRAFTED ALES

Our brewer produces four basic styles each week. He will choose a beer from our Other Featured Styles based on season and occasion. All of our brews are made from the finest malted barley, hops and special Ringwood yeast.

Ginlichs Golden Ale

A crisp, lightly colored, evenly hopped ale. Our lightest beer, this brew will satisfy most palates.

Red Room Pale Ale

A copper colored, full bodied ale with a distinct hop bitterness and subtle nutty flavor. Our most popular beer.

Irish Red Lenox Half Stock Ale

A deep red colored ale with a distinct malt flavor. Finished with English Kenr Goldings hops, giving it a full hop aroma.

Iron Works India Pale Ale

This authentic style of ale has an assertive hop bitterness. Unfiltered and unpasteurized, this is a full flavored beer.

Ravens Rock Stout

A smooth, dark, unfiltered beer, classically opaque with a convincing roasted barley aroma and taste.

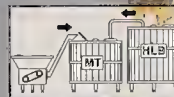

• Ask your server about our other featured beers.

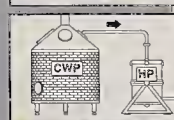

OUR BREWING SYSTEM

Our brewing system was designed and built by the brewing experts at Peter Austin Partners, Ltd. of Ringwood England. The Peter Austin system is known internationally for its ease of operation and efficiency. This allows our brewer to produce a consistent, quality handcrafted ale as good and fresh as any other in the world.

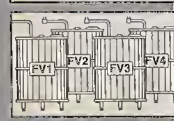

THE PROCESS

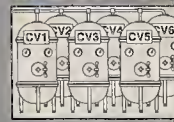

MILLING & MASHING: Malted barley is run through a two-roller mill to gently crack the grain forming the "grist." The grist is combined with hot conditioned water from the hot liquor tank (HLT) into the mash tun (MT) where enzymes break down the starches into fermentable sugars.

BOILING: The sweet liquid created by mashing, called the "wort," is pumped into the brew kettle (CKP) where it is boiled. Bittering hops are added during the boil. The wort is then cooled and filtered through the patented "hop-processor" (HP) where the finishing hops add aroma and naturally filter the brew.

FERMENTATION: The cooled wort is pumped to one of four vessels (FV) where the distinctive Ringwood yeast is added to begin fermentation. The yeast covers the top of the wort and is aerated over a period of several days. Our "open fermentation" process is the traditional brewing process.

All our handcrafted ales are produced with the finest malted barley and hops available. The ales are unpasteurized and naturally conditioned and served fresh directly from our conditioning tanks.

PITTSFIELD'S BREWING RENAISSANCE

It's been a long time since beer was produced commercially in Pittsfield. The Brewery at 34 Depot Street is the first to do so since Prohibition.

The brewery consists of a five barrel brew plant capable of producing approximately 150 gallons of beer with each brew. The entire process can be observed from our main dining room. The remainder of the brewing, fermentation and conditioning rooms are directly beneath the restaurant. Each room is chilled to precise temperatures to ensure the distinct freshness and flavor of a handcrafted ale.

The Brewery at 34 Depot Street is proud to bring back a piece of Pittsfield history. Prior to Prohibition, beer was produced locally by the "Berkshire Brewing Company." At its peak, the brewery produced approximately 75,000 barrels of beer that were distributed throughout the Northeast.

By many measures, the Berkshire Brewing Co. was considered one of the leading breweries in the state.

We welcome you to try a few of our handcrafted ales. We are sure the freshness and quality, complete with excellent, reasonably priced dining, will bring you back time and time again.

Cheers!!

GARLIC BROCCOLI

Inspired by the Italian technique of tossing cooked broccoli in olive oil and garlic, I developed an Asian version, using sesame oil flavored with crushed red peppers and combined with minced garlic, soy sauce, and fresh lemon juice. The spicy dressing is excellent tossed with almost any cooked vegetable, including cauliflower, zucchini, or snow peas.

• Serves 6

1½ pounds broccoli

Spicy Sesame Dressing

2 tablespoons sesame oil

1½ tablespoons corn or safflower oil

½ teaspoon crushed dried red chile peppers or chile pepper flakes

1½ tablespoons minced garlic

¼ cup soy sauce

1 tablespoon sugar

1 tablespoon freshly squeezed lemon juice

Using a sharp knife, peel away the tough skin near the broccoli stems and cut away the stem ends. Cut off the florets and cut the stems on the diagonal into 1½-inch sections. Separate the larger florets so that they all are approximately the same size as the stem pieces.

To prepare the Dressing, combine the sesame oil and corn or safflower oil in a heavy saucepan, heat until very hot but not smoking, and add the crushed red peppers or pepper flakes. Remove from the heat, cover, and let stand for 10 minutes, then add the garlic, soy sauce, sugar, and lemon juice and stir to dissolve the sugar.

Heat a large pot of water until boiling, add the broccoli, and bring back to a boil. Cook for about 3 minutes, or just until the broccoli is crisp-tender. Immediately drain in a colander and refresh under cold running water; drain thoroughly. Transfer to a bowl, add the spicy dressing, and toss to coat. Serve at room temperature or chilled.

WARM CRAB AND SPINACH SALAD

My passion for spinach salads inspired me to create this recipe. Nuggets of fresh lump crabmeat paired with sweet red peppers dot shiny green spinach leaves, which are lightly wilted by a tangy warm soy dressing.

• Serves 6

- 1 pound (or two 10-ounce packages) fresh spinach, stems removed, rinsed thoroughly and drained

Spicy Dressing

- 6 tablespoons soy sauce
1½ tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons clear rice vinegar
2 tablespoons rice wine or sake

- 1 pound lump crabmeat, picked through to remove any shells and cartilage

- 1 tablespoon rice wine or sake
1 tablespoon corn or safflower oil
3 tablespoons minced scallions (white part only)

- 1 tablespoon minced garlic
1 tablespoon minced fresh ginger

- 2 red bell peppers, rinsed, cored, seeded, and cut into ¼-inch dice

Cut the spinach roughly into large pieces and arrange in a serving bowl. For the Spicy Dressing combine the soy sauce, sugar, rice vinegar, and rice wine or sake in a small bowl, and set aside.

Heat a wok or a skillet until hot. Add the crabmeat and rice wine or sake and toss lightly over high heat for about 1 minute. Remove from the heat and scatter over the spinach leaves.

Reheat the pan until hot, add the corn or safflower oil, and heat until hot. Add the scallions, garlic, and ginger and stir-fry over high heat for about 15 seconds, until fragrant. Add the diced red peppers and stir-fry for 1 minute. Add the soy sauce mixture and cook for about 1 minute, stirring. Pour the hot dressing over the spinach and toss lightly. Serve immediately.

CHINESE BARBECUED CHICKEN

Ever since I can remember, I've loved barbecued chicken. Heavy with garlic and hoisin sauce, this barbecue sauce will fill your house with a rich, appetizing aroma. The all-purpose sauce is great on pork and country-style spareibs too. • Serves 6

- 1 split fryer or broiler chicken (about 3½ pounds)

Barbecue Sauce

- ½ cup hoisin sauce
3 tablespoons soy sauce
3 tablespoons rice wine or sake
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons ketchup
2 tablespoons minced garlic

Rinse the chicken and drain thoroughly. Remove any fat deposits from the neck and the inside and place the chicken halves in a bowl. Combine the Barbecue Sauce ingredients and pour over the chicken. Toss lightly to coat, and spread the mixture all over the outside and inside of the chicken. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate for at least 1 hour, or overnight if possible.

Preheat the oven to 375°F.

Arrange the chicken halves skin side down on a baking sheet lined with aluminum foil. Bake for 30 minutes, turn over, and bake for another 30 minutes, until crisp and brown. Let the chicken cool slightly, and remove to a cutting board.

Using a sharp knife, cut away the wings. Cut off the legs and thighs and split them in half at the joint. Cut the thighs into 2 to 3 pieces. Cut the breast into thin slices and arrange on a serving platter. Arrange the remaining pieces on the platter and serve.

What is Dim Sum?

"Dim Sum" is one of the main part of Chinese Gastronomy. It is a collection of appetizer, snacks, and pairings in many variations. Dim Sum are made with different kinds of meats, vegetables, and seafoods which then cooked in different ways: steamed, pan-fried, boiled, braised, served and baked. There are also many dessert available in the form of buns, cakes, etc. Dim Sum started its root in Southern China since the Tenth Century and had wide spread effect all over the world. More and more people like to have Dim Sum not only for breakfast but throughout the day also. Why are these tiny snacks so attractive? It is because of the way it's presented, which makes it tempting to our eyes and taste bud. Furthermore, it is an economic way to have a leisure and enjoyable meal, by spending a small amount of money you can enjoy many different kinds of oriental food.

THE STORY OF HOP TOO'S

Great Chinese cooking is as much a part of Chinese history as the Great Wall, Confucius and the Ming dynasty. Written recipes date back to the 9th Century B.C. and even today, Chinese cooking is still revered as a delicate and well balanced art form. At HOP TOO'S we take that art very seriously.

Our menu is like an excursion through China. We've selected dishes from the Chinese provinces known for their special seasonings and distinctive combinations of fresh, carefully selected ingredients. And with so many choices, every time you order from HOP TOO'S you can enjoy a new and delicious taste adventure. Or pick a traditional Chinese favorite. Either way, you can be sure that HOP TOO'S prepares food only one way, and that's cooked fresh when ordered. You'll taste the difference, freshness makes. But best of all you can enjoy a HOP TOO'S meal in the comfort of your own home because HOP TOO'S delivers right to your door. HOP TOO'S. We're making history in America.
